KULRAIN AND O'DONNELL

Contest Declared a Draw at End of Eighth Round.

SULLIVAN A NOISY SPECTATOR

Le Was Ready to Challenge the Winner if the Referce Had Named One.

Bosron, March 18.—In the presence of 2000 people at the Suffolk Athletic club onight Jake Kilrain of Baltimore and Steve O'Donnell of Australia fought eight rounds, and at the close Patsy Shep-ard, referen, amid shouts of "Klirula" declared the contest a draw. While the referee was making his mind up, John L. Bullivan, who sat just outside the es close by Kilruin's corner, mounted ropes close by Kittain's corner, modules a chair and, waving his tile, demanded a decision. When a draw was amounced be sprang into the arona, and rushed toward O'Donnell's corner. Two of the ands graphed him by the arm and seconds graubed him by the arm and turned him saide, when he clasped hands with Kiliratin in apparous congratulation and, awinging his arms, showed the later how the light might have been won. He was ready, he said, to challenge the winners if the referse only anmed one. The ex-champion was finally led off by life friends, and the scene, which caused the wildest excitoment, ended.

It took Referres Shepard five minutes to make and the last only his mind which decision to make, Kiliratin had the best of the last round and it looked as If he would win. He had not the force, however, but his old time plack asserted itself and with will ruseless he dazed the Australian boy, who had been smiling contentedly for seven rounds and had landed at will apon the face of the Baltimorean. O'lounedt was the clawere in the leads. In the first round he floored Kiliratin and in the second he also had him to the floor, but his blaws seemed to lack force. Kiliratin divery offective work with its right.

O'l'Donnell hes gained nothing in repu-

O'Donnell has gained nothing in reputation by his work tonight, while the stock of Kilrain was rased high. Both men entered they ring at 9.85. Kilrain was fat and clumay and weighted in at 220 pounds. It was apparent that he had fittle training, while O'Donnell was in excellent trim and tipped the scales at 173 pounds. With O'Donnell was like Welf, James McKay and Billy Delancy. Kilrain was seconded by Jim KcCartby, Jim Phelan and Egobert. The rounds were as follows:
Round I –O'Donnell was the Segressor and led with his left, which was cleverly stopped by Kilrain. O'Donnell then led with his right, landing on Kilrain's ingular. Kilrain for Kilrain's ingular. Kilrain ied with his lift, missed, and a punch sent him to his knees. Kilrain, on rising, was stoned; holowed with a left swing for Kilrain's ingular. Kilrain relited and forced to his corner, where rapid blews were exchanged.
Round 2—A punch on Kilrain's nose brought blood, Kilrain o'Donnell's neck, nearly threw him off his feet. O'Donnell's held, in the face, O'Donnell Kilrain was breathing heavily.
Round 3—O'Donnell landed at will on Kilrain's mouth. At the close Kilrain was breathing heavily.

There are incident by the burden of the failure of those republies to meet their colligations to foreign delitors under the stress of hard times and the influence of the world wide depression of trade.

As the European governments appear to be moving to collect these individual febts on their own account, it is a question that the United States must specify still as to how far it is propared to permit this process to go on. Besides in the theory of the commission to adjudge the damage.

On the whole it is probable that the President will interly a to secure at least 4m anneadment to the terms of the ultimatum by an appeal to the British government representing the great hardship that it would work to Nicaragua under her present depressed condition to prefer a demand for so large an indemnity.

THE ALLIANCA AFFAIR.

Negotiations Will be Kept Secre

in the Future.

Washington, March 18.—An impenerable mystery surrounds the negotia
ions between the state department and tions between the state department and the Spanish government on the Allianca affair. It seems to have been borne in upon the officials of the state department that in the present state of public feeling better progress can be made toward a passedul settlement of the question by giving publicity to them before a conclusion has been reached. The only response to definite inquiries that can be notatined is a positive refusal to discuss the subject in any aspect, and whether or not any action has yet been taken by the Spanish government in the direction of issuing instructions to its mayl officers to refrain from further interference with American shipping will probably be learned first from Havara, from which point the order will be distributed.

President Cleveland conferred at moor today with Seretaires Greebam and Carliale. The Allianca affair was governed the statement is made that the present aspect of the subject is gifth as to give savarance that there with be no trouble of a serious character between the United States and Spair.

LATER WILL IS PRODUCED

Mrs. Nettie Craven, an old Friend of Fair's.

SAN FRANCISCO, Murch 18.-The legs squabble over the $40,000,000 left by the ate "Bonanza King," James G. Fair, leveloped a fresh sometion today, What purports to be a later will than the one praviously offered for probate was introduced into the case. The first will, it will be remombered, was stolen from the county clerk's office, and in order that the document might be probated, Judge Slack had finally declared that a certified copy of the will might be substituted. Upon the alleged will introduced today a bitter contest will hinge. This new document purports to be a holographic will. It is written in on a notographic will. It is written in lead penoid on two sheeti of legal cap paper, and it was brought into court securely framed between two plates of glass, and was preferred by Reuben Lloyd, attorney for Virginia Fair and Mrs. Horum Osliriets of New York, daughters of the deceased.

The attorneys for Charley Fair, their brother, came into court with Mr. Lloyd, and apparently approved of the proceedings.

proceedings approved at the processing approved at the processing has langer any doubt that the three children have combined to fight for the probate of the alleged will. In deris provisions the estate would be divided almost equally between the two daughters and Charley Fair, and the distribution would be made at once. Undor the will previously offered for probate these children would get only the income from the estate during their time of life, and upon the death of all of them the estate would be divided into three equal parts, one part going to the children of Virginia Fair, onless she dle without issue, when this share would go to the children of Virginia Fair, onless she dle without issue, when this share would go to the children of Mrs. Orlichs, and the remaining one-third to the families of several brothers and eisters of the deceased. Charles Fair's recent marriage caused an estrangement between himself and the states, and the was cut off with a life interest in the income of the estate. His widow would receive nothing.

THE LATE LEGISLATURE.

The statement that the legislature which adjourned Saturday night was no better than the worst of its predecessors, is far from true. There have been a number of legislative asssions in this state in which railroad influence and oney from various sources have held honey from various sources nave held full sway. Neither the railroad nor other organized interests seeking to con-trol legislation have achieved any nota-ble victories in this legislature. They met a number of very disastrous defeats and such victories as they secured were meager and apparently unsatisfactory, weighted as they were by amendments proposed by friends of the people. It is were in the combine. Remember that legislature is its signal failure to secure retrenchment in state expenses—to cut down or entirely eliminate appropria-tions which are not justified, either by the shility of the people to pay or the alleged to exist. banefits which are supposed to accrue therefrom. In failing to do this legislature has not only conferred a heavy responsibility upon Governor Budd, but it has given him the opportunity to make a great deal of political capital for ing the early part of the session, and, in fact, until within two weeks of the time for adjournment, it promised to be a lagislature which every citizen would nonember with granten.

Introducing its last days the honest majority appared to become divided and

So far as Fresno county is concerned, her representatives were found consolationally working for the public weal adding the section with the property of the p during the session, and it is no fault of theirs that more was not accomplished. Without exception they opposed all ex-travagant appropriations, and fulfilled, as far as lay in their power, their pledges to the people of the county. They have very materially decreased the expense of county government, and had legislation been enacted as they voted, Governor Budd would have had little epportunity to manufacture . Democratic capital by the exercise of his veto power.

It represtly thinks that the eggs of a for-dependency are essential to the of the people of this country—on the principle that imported d domestic eggs are a combina-slting to the stomach of a free out of American wool is of-esthetic taste. The fact is, difornia has taken off ninenced in earnest to his foreign filling for 'n without paying for-"steemed contemsenatorial quasi-investigation of Sena-tor Biggy's charges was expected. It could not have resulted otherwise. If the members of the committee were as honest as the Father of His Country, who could not tell a lin, they would not have been able to learn touch in one evening a muck-raking of such a cess-pool of presumed corruption; and if they were not honest of course nothing rould have been expected of them. From one point of view the senate's in-vestigation of itself appears rather far-cical, in any event. The allegation had been made that twenty-three senators were in the combine. This number is a majority of the senators. What sort of an investigation would you expect from a body a majority of whose memthe result of an honest inquiry? A markery of justice, of course.

For the REUBLICAN's part, it helds to two theories in connection with the malodorous business. First, it believes, as doubliess do most intelligent elitions, that a "combine" did exist in the legislature, and it finds that this belief is ation of affairs there. Second, it does not believe that twenty-three senators proposed by friends of the people. It is true that the legislature has not been without its usual scandal, but notwith standing this it is the verdict of unprejudiced longerit,—fint as a whole projudiced longerit,—fint as a whole in the logislature is its signal failure to secure retrendment in state expenses—to cut down or entirely eliminate appropriate the combiner. Remember that there is only Senator Biggy to support the theory that this is the number of unbiners, and Dunn's word is represented by the letter x among those who know him best; recollect, further, that, with all its faults, this legislature has been the most unsatisfactory to the rail-road of any of recent years, and you will understand, why we doubt the exwill understand why we doubt the existence of us large a "combine" as was

Now the matter will go to the Sacra-mento grand jury. What will be done with it there it is impossible to surmise. One may hope, though he doubts, that that body will act with energy and make a great dead of political capital for himself and his party. That he will avail himself of the opportunity can hardly be doubted, for he cannot fail without violating a multitude of pledges made to the people prior to his election. The action of the legislature in this respect is not easily accounted for. During the early part of the tession, and, in fact, until within two weeks of the time for adjournment, it promised to be a construction of the desired to the construction of the construction of the desired to the construction of the desired to the construction of thoroughness. California has been too much and too long disgraced by these over-recurring legislative scandals. We zens prefer knaves to represent them or Cut they are so foolish as not recognize nature's sign manual of knavery on the human countenance, We say that such an inference is nat-

Now that Biggy has said that Dunn tried to bribe him and Dunn has said that he didn't, it is a great satisfaction to have it officially decided by the sena-torial investigating committee that one to have it officially decided by the semi-torial investigating committee that one or the other of the two senators has lied. If it were not for this logical and dispos-cionate decision everyhely would sup-pose that both liggy and Doon told the truth, and the natural consequence would be that people would lie awake nights trying to reconcile their statements. Nisi is the advantage of having a legis-lature which is ever ready to investigate itself; it removes harasing doubt from the minds of the populace and makes caystery clear. Either Dunn or Biggy lied, it is no satisfactory to be sure of that. It is too late now, but why didn't the committee tell us what they lied about? It is unfortunate that they did notified at present we grope, as it were.

Maric Burroughs Wednesday Even

Maric Burroughs Wednesday Evening—J. K. Emmet Coming.

Miss Maric Burroughs, who comes to the Barton opera house on Wednesday night, is in all probability the handsennest me well as the most artistic actress on the American stage to-day. Her success in the east is phenomenal, and her engagement at the Haldwin theater has been so great that she will be seen every year on the Pacific coast. She brings to this city, at the request of many theater goors, Henry Arthur Jones' powerful play. "Judolay," which has made her so famons, and she will be seen in her great creation of Vashti Dathic, the fasting pirl. The etory of "Judola" is a beautiful one, and the scenery is most effective. The second act set represents Agarby Custle by monnlight and is strikingly realistic. Miss Burroughs brings a company of great excellence to this city, and a most beautiful treat is in store for theater goors.

MY LORD ELEPHANT.

When I was stationed up in the hill country, some 20 years age, I used to be passionately fund of hunting. I had not been out from England long, and the novelty of following big game had not yet lost its charms. My duties did not occupy a great deal of my time, and I could often be absent a week or time does without serious inconvenience to I could often be absent a week or ten days without serious inconvenience to may one. With a couple of matives and my old "Benry," I would set forth on thought, my dephant Mowtha was an exceptionally fine specimen of his race, endowed with all its virtuce and but few of its further. He was strong, pattent suggested what had been seen as a form of the serious suggested when the serious the suggested when the serious of the chassa Your should have seen his unwindly bulk making its way goiselessly through the thick imple grass, his great feet lifted and put down with the utreast contion, his floxible rank durting in all directions to seen!

runk durting in all directions to scen the game, and his small eyes glouning with excitement. He seemed to know with excitement. Ho seemed to know institutively the moment to fire, and then he would not move a muscle. You know it requires no small amount of nerve to stand perfectly still with a Bengal devil in a striped skin charging at our, and too often it happens that your well directed shot is spailed by your olephant's speedy rotreat. The natives deemed Mowcha superfus: m, on necount of his intelligence and strength, and his mahout always.

The next day we plunged into the forest itself. Toward midday we were startled by hearing a fearful, thunder-ous rearing, as of some monster in its startled by hoaring a rearrot, topoge-ous rearing, as of some mouster in its death agony. At that distance I did not recognize it as the voice of any will animal I was acquainted with and turn-ed to Ramon for an explanation. His dark skin was bleached to ashen gray. But at that instant I hard Ramon call out boldly, "Let-rah gaj" (the down). The great beast paused, "Let-rah, lel-rah," again he cried, and to my astenishment the creature obediently went down upon its knees.

The quick eye of the native had seen it. He knew that the animal the end of which still trailed on the ground. The quick eye of the native had seen it. He knew that the animal must have been in capitivity at some time and called out the world ocenmand, hoping that it would be obeyed. He was not disappointed, for, although the small eyes still gleamed with an ugly red light and the trunk waved mutinously in the air, the great creature had not forgotten his former training. We appreached him cantiously at first, but presently Ramon rushed fearnessly up to the butte and potted him effectively, calling him by every name of ordearment. "Ah, 'its thou, up lord the depthant! Tis thou, leader of the hord, where than the wise men of the temple, becauted as a lotus bad, strong as the winds of heaven! O great Lord Mowella! Thy slave subtest after?"

Truly enough it was our old Mowelm, who, inspite of lapse of time and change of place, had not forgotten his old masters and the familiar word of command. All this had happened within a few moments. The great hard was still crashing through with rage and shaking the ground in their fury. Should one of them dance to come near conogh to see us our lives would not don't furthing. Is hard one in the tot when a particular. It may be said in defense of masculue ousborn in this natter that the conduct of the recipionts of these ematery demonstrations would justify the opinion that they prefer them to small permiary emoinments, but the cruel fast is that the girl employed in a restaurant who doesn't act more or less as a flict stands no chance of rotaining her position. A complaint of a customer's familiarity instead of causing him to be robuked would more likely result in her own dismissal. It isn't alone for waiting that he is paid. She is superced to

i Tegat kity of the Trop.

Some years since, white hunting in northern Michigan, I tried, with the aid of a professional trapper, to entrap a fex who made nightly visits to a spot where the entrails of a deer had been thrown. Although we tried every expedient that suggested itself to us, we were unsencessful, and, what seemed very singular, we always found the trapsprang. My companion insisted that the amount dup beneath it, and putting his part beneath the juw pushed down the pan with safety to himself, but though the alwestance seemed to confirm it found hadly credit his explanation. Another year, in another locality of the same region, an old and experienced trapper assured me of its correctness and said in confirmation that he had several times caught them, after they had made two or three successful attempts to spring the trap, by the simple expedient of setting it upside down, when, of comes, the act of undermining and touching the pan would bring the paw within the grasp of the jaws.—Mr. Crebent of Boston in Nature.

Dear Sir:—I have been a customer of yours ever since you commenced business, but as times are hard I thought to be a little more economical, and, seeing that you were being undersold in the flour war, your flour selling at 65c as sack and some other nearchant selling at 65c, I sent for 4 sacks of the 60c flour; but when my hired man paid the merchant for it he was charged 70c, and if you want to find out where that store is you go to the depart and go straight west for 25,000 miles or therebout you will find it, but if you would rather go sast to find it you will got there in two minutes. Now, from this out I will trade with B. T. Scott as long as he stays in the middle of the read and sell his goods at the same price inside of the store that his sign noard indicates on the outside, Go it, Scott. Square dealing is your motto. They feet only Smilles and Smilks From Bon at Restaurants.

In restaurants where women are only loyed as walters the average man seems to be of the opinion that smiles or smirks are tantemeunt to "lips," at though they cost the giver nothing and have no easily value engiver nothing and such that the same selements to be considered in estimating damage in breach of promise suits. Why a man should consider it more or less obligatory on him to give a gratuity to the man who waits upon lim, be he white or colored, while his consciouse relieves him of all such obligations when a women performs a similar service for him, is one of those mysteries which the fountaine mind is imported in the several "waitresses" on the subject, and they have always told me that they would infinitely prefer dimes to smiles, more expecially as their pay is so small that the problem of making bath each amout is for them a particularly hard one.
